E. B. McGlone
Candidate for the Republican nomination for REPRESENTATIVE.

Mr. E. B. McGlone, whose picture appears above, is a man whose character and qualifications make him all that the people of the Powell-Estill Legislative District desire in a Representative. He was born and reared on a farm in Carter county, Ky., and is 33 years of age. His father was a farmer in ordinary circumstances, and he is one of a large family of children. As a farmer boy he was faithful and industrious and was known throughout the community as a model youth. Early in life he became identified with the timber interests in Eastern Kentucky, in which business he is still engaged. He is one of Eastern Kentucky's most loyal sons and no man has worked harder nor done more to build up his native section. He has lived in this Legislative district for fifteen years. Four of these years were spent in Estill county at Ridgewood, but for the past eleven years he has lived in his present home in Powell county at Clay City.

Follow Mr. McGlone through his career from boyhood up, during his childhood in Carter county, in his schooldays at the Morehead Normal, as a business man in Estill, and now as a citizen of Powell, and you will not find a spot or blemish on his character, and no man that he ever wronged. He is strictly temperate, a Christian both in profession and practice and is liberal towards his own and other churches with both his time and his means. For some years he has been a teacher of the Adult Bible Class in the Christian Sunday School at Clay City. He is devoted to his wife and children, faithful to his friends, accommodating to his neighbors and loyal to his party.

Mr. McGlone is a man of splendid education and besides is widely read and well posted on all the issues of the day. The district possesses few men of greater ability.

Mr. McGlone has no selfish interests to promote in making this race. He has a true citizens pride in his district's welfare and interest enough in its affairs to want it to be properly represented, and has devotion enough to his party to answer its call. This is the district where his children were born and where they are now being reared; this is where his interests are and where, for fifteen years, he has been an unselfish servant of his party and a prominent figure in all of its councils. He, naturally, feels that he is entitled to the nomination which he seeks, and the thoughtful people of the district think so, as well.

Being the son of a farmer, and having been a farmer himself, he knows the needs of the farmers and will stand for their interests. He is a successful business man, such as the Legislature needs most at this time. Only practical business men can put the finances of the state on a sound business basis. He is

Birthday Party.

Miss Ruth Eaton entertained a few friends Friday evening, in celebration of her birthday anniversary. The house had been very prettily decorated for the occasion, and a most delightful evening was spent by the guests, with music, singing and games. The table in the dining room was decorated with ferns and flowers and, with the cake and candles, presented a very pleasing appearance. Miss Eaton is a very charming hostess, and those present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The guest were Misses Ethel Johnson, and Eannie Mountz, and Messrs. John C. Vorderbruggen, J. H. Roberts and Edgar Curry.

No Oil Found on Hardwick's Creek.

Williams & Polin, who have been drilling for oil and gas on the farms of Henry Tipton and Harrison Grayson Hardwick's Creek, have quit it up, having sunk two dry wells. They only went about 100 feet, and as traces of gas were found on both properties, it is reasonable to suppose that further development might have had better results. These people have been on several other properties in that neighborhood, and will probably sink test wells on some of them.

sane and sound on all moral issues and strictly in favor of education and good roads.

In him the Estill-Powell District will have a man who will conduct himself with becoming sobriety, dignity and integrity, and who will be on the alert to watch the interests of his district and who will undoubtedly bring to it honor and credit. adv

Here is a chance for some teacher to add a hundred dollars to his salary, and for many teachers to help others and to help Kentucky. Go in and win this prize.

Stork Paid Noted Visit

The stork paid a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tilden Caudill, of Waltz, this county, last Friday night and left three fine girl babies with Mr. and Mrs. Caudill. Mr. Caudill, who is a prominent merchant and a brother of our Post Master, Mr. J. D. Caudill, and J. N. Caudill, of this place is receiving many congratulations from his friends. The little ladies, who have been named Tina, Ina and Nina, and their proud mother, are doing nicely. — Morehead Mountaineer.

One of our business men was visited a few days ago by an itinerant vender of hair tonics, etc., and not quite believing all that was claimed for the tonic which he was persuaded to buy, tried it on his moustache, with the result that where he had a handsome sandy-colored fascinator, he now has a black one. It is said that his wife refused to admit him to the house that night when he went home. At any rate, he was seen, for the first time in months, rambling around the streets at a late hour that night.

Superintendent Schirmer of the Orphans' Home, is teaching the boys Nature study, and to that end has secured a collection of snakes, all of which have been caught by the boys. Among them are a blowing viper, a blue racer and some garter snakes. The boys are greatly interested in the snakes and propose to establish a regular zoological garden on a small scale.

Claims Agent O. M. Hardesty was here Monday and settled with Taulbee Mountz for the burning of his house a short time ago. The fire was started by a locomotive.

RELIGIOUS.

Next Sunday will be the regular preaching day at the Methodist Church at Clay City. There will be services morning and evening. At the evening service a duet will be rendered by two small girls. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. If you are a member of the Church, and love the Church, your duty is to come. E. H. Ritchie P. C.

STANTON.

(By P. O. Derthick.)

Mr. Wiley Skidmore of the North Fork country was in town last week on business.

Mrs. Tet Hall of Pulaski County is visiting her many relatives and friends in and around Stanton.

E. H. Fuller was acquitted at his examining trial Saturday for the shooting of A. Walker.

Miss McDill returned to her home in Ohio Monday of this week. She will not return to us but will be married this fall to Mr. Buck who taught in our college last year till he was taken sick with typhoid fever and had to return home. We wish them well when the great event comes off. Misses Paisley and Carver accompanied her as far as Lexington where they went to have their eyes treated.

The Sunday School convention at Nada Sunday was a splendid success. The house was filled at all the meetings. There were quite a number from Clay City, Hardwicks Creek, Rosslyn, Filson, Dundee and other points to Nada, who attended. Dinner was provided on the grounds and a splendid picture was taken of the crowd.

Misses Nora West, Maude Bowen, Gladys Welch and Mr. Ezekiel Brasher received first class certificates in the state teachers examination held last week. Maude Bowen received the highest grade. Miss Thompson would have received the highest grade but she was not acquainted with Kentucky history. She received grades above 95 in most all her papers. There were 20 who took the examination, with 7 second class and 9 failures.

In the census report just completed in Powell County there are 1111 white males and 1062 white females, 31 colored males and 45 females. Of this number there are 435 illiterates. It will be a great day in our country when we shall wipe out this stain, and there shall be no one in the county who will not be able to read or write. With all our splendid day schools and with the establishment of moonlight schools we trust that everybody in the county will co-operate with us and raise Kentucky's standard in education among the states of the Union. We were almost at the bottom a few years ago but we are fast climbing to the top and we can soon say to the world that every adult person in Powell County can read and write.

A social gathering was provided for the school-mates and friends of Richard Crowe at the home of the writer Tuesday evening. About 50 were present and all had an enjoyable time. Games and music enlivened the time, and ice cream and cakes were served. We were all glad to see Richard back and to know that he had done so well in Johnsons Bible College at Kimberlin Heights, Tenn. At the request of many of his friends he preached at the Christian Church Sunday night to one of the largest crowds that has ever been in there. We have heard a great many compliments on Richard's first sermon in Stanton and we are all proud of him. After teaching school he will return to Kimberlin Heights and resume his studies.

Mrs. Malinda Martin, one of the most respected of Powell County's aged citizens died at the home of her son, Marion in Stanton last Saturday morning. She was 74 years of age and her husband James Martin died fourteen years ago of heart trouble. There are eight children living and all of them were at the funeral with the exception of Mrs. Cinda Hogan of Missouri. The others present were Rome, Marion, John, Andrew and Bert Martin, Mrs. Ruth Willoughby and Mrs. Rattie Boone. Mrs. Martin died of dropsy and other complications. She was a woman that was loved by all and she had a host of friends who will miss her. The writer extends to the family his deepest sympathy as it was just one month ago that he was called upon to give up his mother, but we feel that heaven is nearer and dearer to us for the ties that are binding us there.
